Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer image file is deemed objectionable because it promotes and supports the exploitation of children and young persons for sexual purposes.

The image on the file shows two pubescent girls being sexually violated by an adult man. The image is intended for the titillation and arousal of those with a sexual interest in children and young people. The availability of such images encourages this sexual interest and perpetuates the belief that underage girls are available for adult sexual use.

The classification of this publication interferes with the right to freedom of expression set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention and is a reasonable limitation on the freedom of expression. The classification reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to protect its young and vulnerable members from sexual exploitation.
